PRIVATISATION OF BUS SERVICES IN THE EASTERN SUBURBS OF SYDNEY

The primary task of a local government is to provide essential services to its citizens like public transport. This is part of why we pay taxes.

As there are more and more cars in a city like Sydney and less and less available parking spots surely no one would even think of removing such an essential service from its citizens.

We who dont live nextdoor to the light rail cannot even access it easily anymore after the reduction of buses that has happened during the last year.

Since the light rail is so slow its often not an option. You have to have both.
