My mum babysits my cousin's children on a Thursday to help her out. Mum travels from South Coogee to Petersham and as result of the transport cuts she has to get off a bus at Randwick and change to the light rail in High Street to enable her to get to Central to then catch a train. Mum also has COPD which impacts her breathing and puts her at risk if she catches a cold. The change to transport increases her commute time and as winter approaches she will be more exposed to the elements whilst she walks to change to the light rail.
