The new bus timetable and the changes associated with it are terrible. Trying to catch public transport from Coogee into the city outside of peak hour now involves changing buses at unmarked bus stops, or having to sprint across the street to meet the light rail. Further, the light rail rarely has seats available, whereas the old buses always did have seats. This is a major step backwards in our public transport, and clearly has been made without due consultation of those affected. This is enough to change my vote at the next election.
