The discrimination of medicinal cannabis patients is outrageous and unbelievable. You can be on loads of Valium and so many other mind numbing and altering prescription substances which are not even tested for except for cannabis.

To have a trace of a prescribed substance with no impairment and be charged with drug driving is plain vindictive.

The drug war has failed. This is a medical issue and proper research with proper funding is needed so impaired drivers can be charged with endangering there and other peoples lives.

When will polities grow up and stop take cheap shots and marginalizing a few so they can sound strong. Absolute bulling by a bunch of cowards.
