Hi.

I participated in the official medical cannabis trials in 2016 and during the trials I was gifted a driving exemption card that actually got me out of 2 RDT's, Now I have a full prescription I am strictly forbidden to drive anything I can't even apply for a forklift job like I had before my injury and now rely on centrelink for my income. I want my old driving job back as this medication has given me my life back, it sucks that I must become a prisoner inside my own home from the fear of being treated like a criminal for something my doctor prescribes me.
