I am a working person on DSP. My conditions have lead to lots of pain, with that came pain management, lots of it. Through the nearly 20 years I have been hooked on numerous, federally subsidised, pain medications. I have finally found legal medicinal cannabis. My life has changed, it's still stressful and expensive. The stress coming from the fact I must drive for work. I don't use the medication during the day, which is a huge accomplishment as I was on huge doses of pills every few hours for nearly a decade. I'm NEVER intoxicated behind the wheel of a car. Testing needs to look for impairment period! If I'm not impaired, driving erratically in any way. Please leave me alone.
