For too long, animal experimentation has been shrouded in secrecy and no accountability has been held by the psychopaths that are allowed to rule/give permission for this corrupt industry to remain operating.

End any and all taxpayer-funded animal experimentation and give animals the right to be released and re-homed (Buddy's Law). There have been no satisfactory response from ANYONE re the following, and there will never be because the industry is corrupt:

- there exists a plethora of humane and evidence-based alternatives and there needs to be a call for more government investment into these alternatives, as many western countries have already developed;

- all animals need to be re-homed after experimentation, including cats and dogs – which should never be 'euthanised' as they could be adopted out (once again, there are agencies that are capable and have proven to do this over and over again);

- there is negligible transparency and accountability in this industry that is funded (not by CHOICE!) by tax payers. Most Australians if made aware would NEVER opt for their taxes to fund cruel animal experiments. Don't forget that the Australian Government and ALL its employees exist for and serve the Australian communities, not corporations, especially corrupt corporations that give kickbacks and political funding;

- there is HORRIFIC cruelty involved in all the experiments, including near-drowning and forced smoking, especially experiments on primates which have been going on for years - and no one has ever been accountable for this psychopathic abuse of sentient beings.

Until ALL beings are free, we won't stop. We will make sure all beings are free from all experiments in this generation. Your generation and political policies are dying out. Australians choose not to pay for your corrupt behaviours and secrecy at our expense.
