The vaccine mandates have caused myself and my family tremendous stress mentally and financially, losing my job in November 2021 with the Department of Education because I decided not to take the experimental covid vaccines. Given it was very clear early on that the vaccines were not preventing transmission the department had no right to enforce mandates, especially given the risk of damaging side effects that were caused by the vaccine. My sister who is a nurse and had great faith in the government took the vaccines and has suffered serious tremors ever since with no cure in sight. She has since taken long service leave as there is no way she will be having the booster. We have had three young friends suffer myocarditis and two others in hospital with clots. How can you mandate something with such severe side effects, you only have to look at the documents Pfizer is now releasing outlining the massive lists of side effects and deaths caused by these vaccines. The government is culpable and must be investigated. So many of my friends took the vaccine to keep their jobs not to stay healthy. It was clear from the statistics that the only people at risk from covid was people with three or more existing co-morbidities. According to the ABS less than 100 healthy people in Australia actually died from covid. I will never trust the government again. The distress these mandates caused me was tremendous, losing my job just as my husband was diagnosed with Stage 4 cancer. Not being vaccinated did not in any way mean we had covid, yet we were treated like lepers despite being perfectly healthy.
