Thousands of us support the changes. My noisy NIMBY neighbours on the upper North Shore are well organised, but misguided, and they don't speak for most of us. If Sydney housing becomes even more difficult for ordinary people, they will suffer too, but they don't realise it.

I think it would help them to accept change if they could see examples of the interior and exterior of good quality new 6 storey housing, and traffic modelling. Because those are the fears I hear them express around here (Gordon, Killara, Lindfield, St Ives).
