Hi, I'd like to see cannabis legalised for many ready but most of all for the health benefits. Cannabis help cancer patients in many ways, and is very helpful in all sorts of other conditions. Particularly for patients who for one read or another can't take pharmaceutical drugs. As a carer for a family member with advanced bone cancer I have seen the benefits first hand. I am so deeply saddened when I hear of someone growing cannabis to help their Parents/Partner/Sibling, being criminalised because they are trying to help their loved one . More studies need to be done on this medicinal plant and if it's legal it might make further studies more likely. I also think it may lower the crime rate. If it's legal people can grow their own. Organised crime gangs won't get enough money so hopefully they won't bother. It also very good for the eyes. Glaucoma it lowers the pressure in the eyeballs. Thankyou
