I strongly oppose to the energy from waste Incinerator because if it wasn't harmful to humans and nature it will be built in the area where the waste needs to be processed. (Sydney)

My concern is primarily to my family and community health; Parkes are being managed the local waste well without pollutant emissions.

Also, it does not take in consideration how this will affect the values of properties and how much impact in the agriculture in this area, where most of the Parkes and surrounding town's population work.

The idea of this project bringing prosperity to this town is ridiculous, because most of the labourers will be from out of town and after the completion of it, running the plant will not require a big crew.

Transportation from the city of origin is another thing to take in consideration, if this will be moved in containers how the percolates liquids will be managed, how many containers will be delivered in daily bases, how will the storage will be managed, I can allocate so many questions more and I am more afraid of is the lack of response from the council and also the authorities involved in this Project.

We already know Parkes Council hid this from the community because they know well will strongly oppose to it and we only were aware because this was leaked through a non-official source, EPA is another government agency who's been doing his job right, so confidence in any information coming from them must be verified or checked.

I moved to Parkes and bought a house just because it looks like a better place for my family and myself and this proposal just puts in jeopardy what we were looking at.

Please take into consideration my wife and I want to raise our family in a clean and safe environment, and we don't want to leave Parkes, we really love this town and its people.
