11. THE GOVERNOR'S OPENING SPEECH:—Mr. Speaker reported that the House had this day attended the Governor in the Legislative Council Chamber, when His Excellency was pleased to deliver an Opening Speech to both Houses of Parliament. For greater accuracy, he had obtained a copy, which he laid upon the Table of the House, and ordered that it be recorded in the Votes and Proceedings, as follows:—

HONOURABLE MEMBERS OF THE LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL, AND MEMBERS OF THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY,—

We are assembled today to open the Second Session of the Fortieth Parliament of New South Wales.

To the new Members of the Legislative Assembly I extend congratulations on their election. I hope that they will derive great personal satisfaction from this opportunity of participating in the direction of the State's affairs.

It was with much pleasure that we learned recently of the visit to be made to this State early next year by Her Majesty, Queen Elizabeth, and His Royal Highness, the Duke of Edinburgh.

This announcement has brought happy memories to those of us who were privileged to join in the welcome given to Her Majesty and His Royal Highness when previously they visited this State some few years ago. The news that another visit has now been found possible has been received with enthusiasm by all sections of the community.

It is most pleasing that this visit is to be made in the year in which we will celebrate the 175th anniversary of the first British settlement in Australia.

There are encouraging signs of a slow but steady recovery of economic activity in the State. The demand for labour, factory production, activity in the building trade and other indicators of business and commercial progress show a rising trend.

Nevertheless, my Ministers are most concerned at the level of unemployment which still persists in the community.

The responsibility for measures which influence the level of economic activity and consequently of employment rests largely with the Commonwealth Government. However, in the utilisation of the resources available to the State, my Ministers have at all times endeavoured to ensure the greatest possible contribution to the provision of employment and this policy will continue.

Recognising the need to promote the State's industrial growth in every way possible, the Government has established a special Ministry to deal with this and the equally important problem of decentralisation.

With a view to closer association between the Government and industry itself in this work, two advisory panels have been established. One will assist in industrial promotion in New South Wales generally and the other will advise on the further steps which could be taken to encourage the establishment or expansion of industries in country centres.

The potentialities of the State as a field for investment continue to be publicised overseas by its representatives in London and New York and there has been a substantial increase both in the number and range of inquiries from overseas companies seeking investment opportunities and associations of various kinds with local manufacturers.

The scope of assistance available from the Decentralisation Fund to promote the establishment and expansion of industries in country centres has been widened. This has already resulted in the setting up of five new clothing factories in coalfields areas, where additional avenues of employment are particularly desirable, and has prevented the closing down of a long established country footwear factory.

Large-scale developments are taking place and are planned in the basic industry of steel making and in its associated fields. A new tin plate production plant at Port Kembla, costing over £7,000,000 will make Australia self-sufficient in that commodity and will leave a surplus for export. At Newcastle, virtually a new steelworks, comprising coking ovens, blast furnaces, primary rolling facilities, a rod mill, etc., and costing millions of pounds, is planned for the near future.

Australia's lead/zinc smelting capacity has risen by 40 per cent following the completion of an expansion programme amounting to £12,000,000 at works at Cockle Creek. Production of sulphuric acid and superphosphates will also increase considerably.

Other major industrial projects in New South Wales now in hand or to be undertaken shortly include petro-chemicals manufacture at Botany and Silverwater, the production at St. Mary's of high pressure valves of special importance to the power and the chemical industries, a lubricating oil refinery and a pharmaceuticals plant at Kurnell.

The Government is continuing its efforts to ensure that adequate power is available to meet increasing requirements for industrial and domestic use.

Demand on the New South Wales electricity system reached a new peak of 2,097,000 kilowatts in June, an increase of 12½ per cent on the previous year's peak.

Construction has continued of the two major power stations at Vales Point and Munmorah. The first unit of the Vales Point Power Station is scheduled to come into operation in 1963 and the first unit of the Munmorah Power Station in 1967.

In the past year the Electricity Commission brought into service 142 route miles of 330,000 volt and 97 route miles of 132,000 volt lines making a total for the State of 518 and 1,463 miles of lines respectively.

Establishment of two new coal mines at Wyee and New Vale to serve the Vales Point Power Station is nearing completion.

A programme of drilling has added considerably to knowledge of the State's mineral resources and increased mining activity, particularly for tin, is expected during the coming year.

Drilling activities during the current financial year are to be accelerated with special attention to the southern coalfields in order to ascertain reserves, particularly of coking coal which is of vital importance to the heavy industries and which is a valuable export commodity.

The discovery of oil in Queensland close to the New South Wales border has given an impetus to the search for oil in this State. Every encouragement is being given to companies and organisations engaged in exploration work. Several drilling programmes are already being undertaken and others are planned.

With the completion of the standard gauge railway line between Sydney and Melbourne, through freight services were commenced in January of this year and through passenger services in April. The new air-conditioned expresses specially built for the purpose have greatly improved the standard of train travel between the two capital cities.

Over recent years the Government has explored every avenue in an effort to reduce the toll of the road. Large sums of money have been spent on the provision of traffic facilities, the education of road users and the employment of additional traffic police.

The action has had the encouraging result that despite an increase of 34,406 in the number of vehicles registered during the year ended 30th June, 1962, there was a decrease of 1,578 in the total number of accidents, a decrease of 2,437 in the number of persons injured and a reduction of forty-seven fatalities, as against the previous year.

Steady progress has continued in the improvement of the main roads of the State. During last financial year the length of main roads provided with a bitumen surface was increased by 562 miles.

The total length of dustless surface on main roads in New South Wales is now 9,500 miles of which 2,000 miles have been provided in the last three years.

Large bridges are at present under construction over the Richmond, Hunter, Clyde, Darling, Macquarie, Parramatta and Lane Cove Rivers and a contract has recently been let for the construction of a six-lane bridge over the George's River at Taren Point.

Assistance has been provided to councils towards the construction and maintenance of Tourist Roads. The construction of Developmental Roads in the dairying districts of the coast, in the inland wheat-growing areas, and in mixed-farming areas is contributing considerably to the stimulation of rural development.

The research facilities of the Department of Agriculture have continued to expand. Improved buildings and facilities have been completed at the Department's Laboratories at Rydalmere and at the Tamworth Research Station and are under construction at the Leeton, Yanco and Wollongbar Research Stations.

At the latter station, an extensive research programme is planned in order to determine the feasibility of eradicating cattle tick from this State.

Significant benefits to the wool industry are expected to flow from work carried out at the Trangie Research Station in the breeding of merino flock sheep for increased fertility and heavier wool cut.

The development of a new method of fumigating oranges from fruit fly areas has now reached the stage of commercial application and acceptance of this means of fumigation will again give the citrus industry access to the valuable New Zealand market.

Research work by the department's scientific officers continues with the objective of the commercial growing of cotton, the development of vetches as an alternative winter feed in the dairying districts and in the development of measures for the control of swine fever.

An Inland Fisheries Research Station was opened at Narrandera in February of this year and an intensive programme of fisheries research is being undertaken at this and other centres throughout the State.

Progress is being made in the establishment of abattoirs by county councils to provide a clean meat supply for local consumers and to further the Government's policy of country killing for the metropolitan and export markets.

The construction of abattoirs at Forbes and Guyra is well advanced and the erection of abattoirs at Moree and Mudgee will be commenced later in the year.

The Government has continued to implement its closer settlement policy through the general closer settlement scheme. Since the commencement of the scheme eighteen months ago, 130,000 acres have been acquired and subdivided into 101 farms.

Work is continuing on the construction of Burrendong Dam. The Macquarie River has been diverted and 880 men are employed working two shifts per day.

The enlargement of Wyangala Dam is proceeding, 260 men at present being employed on this work.

In the new Coleambally Irrigation Area, south of the Murrumbidgee River, ninety large area farms and eight horticultural farms have been allocated. North of the river, forty-six additional large area farms have been provided within the Murrumbidgee Irrigation Areas.

Considerable progress has been made on the development of the Port Kembla Inner Harbour. Work is at present proceeding on the construction of a coal loading wharf and coal handling equipment estimated to cost £4,000,000.

The erection of modern coal loading facilities is also proceeding at Balmain and preparations are being made for the installation of similar equipment at Newcastle where a contract has been let for the deepening of the entrance to the harbour at a cost of £2,000,000.

Work is proceeding on the reclamation of the low lying islands at the mouth of the Hunter River. It is expected that the first area of reclaimed land will be available for disposal for industrial use during next year.

Good progress has been made with the construction of breakwaters and other works associated with the development of a port on the Clarence River. Work is at present being concentrated on the extension of the southern breakwater from Yamba.

To assist in the development of the fishing industry a chain of safe fishing ports is being constructed along the coastline.

A large number of country water supply and sewerage works are at present under construction, including a pipeline from Oberon Dam through rugged country to serve Blue Mountains towns.

With the completion of Warragamba Dam, the Metropolitan Water, Sewerage and Drainage Board has been in a position to allocate a greater proportion of its available funds to sewerage construction whilst still meeting the continuing demand for amplification and extension of the water supply system within its area.

Last financial year the board exceeded all previous records in laying 329 miles of water mains and 257 miles of sewerage. An increased rate of expenditure on these services is planned in the current year.

4 September, 1962

The Hunter District Water Board is continuing to incur substantial expenditures to develop and augment its water supply and sewerage systems. At the end of the last financial year the total cost for the Grahamstown water supply scheme had reached £8,000,000 and the work was in large part completed.

During the past year expenditure on hospital buildings and equipment totalled almost £6,000,000.

New hospitals were completed at Finley, Ivanhoe and Urbenville and are under construction at Port Kembla, Auburn and Mona Vale. Major building extensions were carried out at eight country hospitals and five suburban hospitals.

A number of major works are in progress at the Prince Henry Hospital to provide medical teaching facilities for the University of New South Wales and a similar programme of works is planned at the University of Sydney. A modern Professorial Block has been completed at the Royal Prince Alfred Hospital at a cost of over £600,000.

The modern approach in the field of mental health has required a great deal of new construction work. During the year over £2,000,000 was expended for this purpose at Psychiatric and State Hospitals.

New Court Houses have been erected at Lake Cargelligo and Narromine and are being built at Belmont, Coff's Harbour, Oberon, Penrith and Warren.

Extensive additions to existing Court Houses at Brewarrina, Tumut and Wallsend are in progress whilst additional Courts are being provided at Darlinghurst. The historic Windsor Court House has been completely restored.

During the last financial year the Housing Commission completed 4,722 new dwellings throughout the State, this being the highest number since 1954-1955.

In the same period an amount exceeding £13,000,000 was made available to co-operative building societies, either from funds provided directly by the Government or under Government guarantee.

The total number of homes completed by all agencies in New South Wales during the year is estimated at 32,306 and this represents over 37 per cent of the estimated total completions for the whole of Australia.

During the year a major multi-unit housing project comprising 429 dwelling units was completed by the Housing Commission at Surry Hills as part of the planned re-development of former congested areas. A similar project to provide 284 flat units is now in course of erection at Redfern and other works of this kind are planned at Redfern and Waterloo where areas formerly occupied by slum properties have been cleared.

Development by the Commission of the Green Valley Estate at Hoxton Park is proceeding steadily. Thirty-four homes have been erected, 343 are under construction and tenders have been accepted for a further 501 dwellings. This is a housing project which will ultimately provide some 6,000 cottages, homes and flats and aged persons units, housing in all more than 25,000 persons and costing some £20,000,000.

The provision of home sites from Crown Land has received high priority. Whilst some Crown sub-divisions have been sold at public auction, the main method of disposal has been by way of suburban holding, a perpetual lease with a low yearly rental. To date 8,000 building blocks have been made available to the public.

Thirty-four homes were completed for aborigines at various country centres by the Aborigines Welfare Board.

Allocations of £125,000 in this and each of the next two financial years will be made to the Board for expenditure upon a programme for the housing of aborigines both on and off reserves. One hundred and four homes are scheduled for completion under this programme during the current year.

School enrolments for 1962 are approximately 624,000 compared with 610,883 in 1961 and 596,000 in 1960.

This steady increase represents a growing demand on the State's finances. Expenditure on the provision of educational services, including technical education and the universities, in the last financial year reached a record total of almost £76,000,000.

The establishment this year of a teachers' college at Wollongong brings the number of such colleges throughout the State to eight. In the first term of 1962 a total of 6,423 students were enrolled in teacher training institutions, an increase of some 1,400 over those in training the previous year.

4 September, 1962

At 30th June, 1962, there were 23,971 teachers employed in departmental schools, including 1,850 casual teachers.

Total enrolments in courses conducted by the Department of Technical Education increased to over 125,000 this year, 9 per cent more than the previous year.

Additional college buildings have been completed at Wollongong, Penrith, Bankstown, North Sydney and Sydney and large expansion projects are under way at Armidale, Tamworth, Taree and Newcastle.

The disturbed economic conditions experienced over the past year have resulted in a significant increase in the demand for social welfare benefits. The Government will continue to see that assistance is provided to meet cases of hardship.

It is proposed to expand further the work of the Emergency Housekeeper Service to provide housekeepers and home aids where the need is apparent for this type of assistance, especially by the elderly and by mothers with children.

The number of dependent children under the care of the State has risen to 5,061 of whom 3,213 have been placed in foster homes and 795 in the care of charitable homes.

A new training school for girls at Thornleigh costing in the vicinity of £400,000 will shortly be opened. Additions have also been made to the training school for boys at Muswellbrook.

Mr. Speaker stated that in the Parliamentary sense, when debate on a motion before the House was adjourned and the matter was set down as an Order of the Day for To-morrow, the debate may be resumed on any future day. (B) That in this Resolution—

“aggregate net revenue from poker machines” in relation to any period of twelve months ending the thirtieth day of November means the sum of the gross revenue from poker machines in respect of the taxing periods ending the thirty-first day of May and the thirtieth day of November in such period of twelve months reduced by the deductions under paragraphs (a) and (b) of the definition of “net revenue from poker machines” which a club is entitled to make in respect of such taxing periods;

“gross revenue from poker machines” in relation to any taxing period means the total amount of money inserted in poker machines of a club by persons using or operating such machines for the purpose of gaming during that period less the amounts released directly by such machines as prize money during that period;

“net revenue from poker machines” in relation to any taxing period means the gross revenue from poker machines derived during that period from poker machines of a club less:—

(a) the value of prizes paid or given during that period by the club to persons using or operating such machines for the purpose of gaming additional to the amounts released directly by such machines as prize money during that period; and

(b) (i) in respect of the taxing period ending the thirty-first day of May, one thousand nine hundred and sixty-three, half the license tax paid by the club pursuant to sections two and 2A of the Gaming and Betting (Poker Machines) Taxation Act, 1956-1962, in respect of the year commencing the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and sixty-two, on any poker machines kept, used or operated at any time between the first day of July and the thirty-first day of December, one thousand nine hundred and sixty-two, and the whole of the license tax paid pursuant to such sections and section four of the said Act on or before the thirty-first day of May, one thousand nine hundred and sixty-three, in respect of any poker machines kept, used or operated for the first time after the said thirty-first day of December, one thousand nine hundred and sixty-two, and on or before the thirty-first day of May, one thousand nine hundred and sixty-three; and

(ii) in respect of any subsequent taxing period the license tax paid during that period;

“taxing period” means the period of six months ending the thirty-first day of May or the thirtieth day of November, as the case may be, in any year in respect of which supplementary license tax is payable.

22 November, 1962

(C) That no license tax shall be an allowable deduction as referred to in paragraph (b) of the definition of "net revenue from poker machines" in paragraph (B) of this Resolution unless such license tax has been paid on or before the due date of payment.

(D) That—

(a) Where in respect of any period of twelve months ending the thirtieth day of November the aggregate net revenue from poker machines derived by a club during such period from the keeping, use or operation of poker machines by the club is five thousand pounds or less, supplementary license tax shall not be payable by the club in respect of the taxing period ending the thirtieth day of November, or be deemed to have been payable by the club in respect of the taxing period ended the thirty-first day of May immediately preceding and any supplementary license tax paid by the club in respect of such preceding taxing period ended the thirty-first day of May shall be refunded to the club.

(b) Where in respect of any period of twelve months ending the thirtieth day of November the aggregate net revenue from poker machines derived by a club during such period from the keeping, use or operation of poker machines by the club—

(i) is more than five thousand pounds but less than ten thousand pounds, or

(ii) is ten thousand pounds or more and the club has been relieved of its obligation to pay the whole or any part of the supplementary license tax in respect of the taxing period ended the thirty-first day of May within such period of twelve months, the supplementary license tax payable by the club in respect of the taxing period ending the thirtieth day of November in that year shall be an amount equivalent to the difference between—

(iii) the supplementary license tax calculated at the rate prescribed by paragraph (A) of this Resolution upon the taxable aggregate net revenue from poker machines derived by the club during the said period of twelve months ending the thirtieth day of November; and

(iv) any supplementary license tax paid in respect of the taxing period ended the thirty-first day of May within such period of twelve months.

In this paragraph "taxable aggregate net revenue" means the aggregate net revenue after deducting therefrom the sum of five thousand pounds reduced by one pound for every one pound, up to five thousand pounds, by which such aggregate net revenue exceeds five thousand pounds.

Where the supplementary license tax paid by a club in respect of the taxing period ended the said thirty-first day of May exceeds the supplementary license tax payable by the club in respect of the taxing period ended the thirtieth day of November in pursuance of this paragraph, the excess shall be refunded to the club.

(E) That the supplementary license tax payable under this Resolution shall be additional to any license tax paid or payable under sections two, 2A and four of the Gaming and Betting (Poker Machines) Taxation Act, 1956-1962.

1. NOTICES OF MOTIONS AND QUESTIONS:—Mr. Speaker called on Notices of Motions and Questions.
2. PAPER:—Mr. McMahon laid upon the Table:—Report of the Sydney Harbour Transport Board for the year ended 30th June, 1962.

3. ADJOURNMENT UNDER STANDING ORDER No. 49:—Mr. Speaker stated that he had received from the Honourable Member for Burwood, Mr. Doig, a Notice, under the 49th Standing Order, that he desired to move the adjournment of the House to discuss a specific matter of recent occurrence, viz.:—"The threat to the Australian Antigonish Movement."

Mr. Doig moved, That this House do now adjourn.

And the motion for the adjournment of the House being supported by five other Honourable Members,—

Point of Order:—Mr. Murphy submitted that the subject sought to be discussed was directly related to the Co-operation (Further Amendment) Bill, notice of motion for the introduction of which had been given today by the Minister for Housing and Minister for Co-operative Societies.

Having regard to the provisions of Standing Order 110A, Mr. Speaker, not receiving an assurance that the Bill would come before the House within a reasonable time, ruled the motion in order.

Motion, by leave, withdrawn.

4. APPLICATION OF STANDING ORDER No. 175B—NOTICE OF MOTION:—

That Standing Order 175B shall not be applied to the Loan Estimates for the current year.

Mr. Speaker stated that he had given careful consideration to the terms of the motion standing in the name of the Acting Leader of the Country Party, Mr. Chaffey, and that he felt there were two reasons why it should be deemed irregular and ruled out of order.

28 November, 1962

Firstly, it was a proposition which presumed that a Notice under Standing Order 175B would be given in relation to the Loan Estimates. No such Notice had been given and if the House considered this Notice of Motion it would be engaged in a debate anticipating possible procedural arrangements. The House may express its opinion as to whether the closure under Standing Order 175B be adopted when it was actually moved.

Secondly, it sought to take arrangements in respect to Government Business out of the hands of the Government. If this Notice of Motion was permitted then it could be followed with other proposals to defer the operation of the Standing Orders, such as, to endeavour to postpone the second reading of any Bill, until a particular date.

Mr. Speaker said that he was supported by Rulings of previous Speakers in regard to similar proposals. He ruled the motion out of order and directed that it be removed from the Business Paper.

10. LOCAL GOVERNMENT (BOUNDARIES COMMISSION) AMENDMENT BILL:—The Order of the Day having been read, on motion of Mr. Hills, Mr. Speaker left the Chair, and the House resolved itself into a Committee of the Whole for the consideration of the amendments made by the Legislative Council in this Bill.

Mr. Speaker resumed the Chair, and the Chairman reported that the Committee had amended one, disagreed with two others and made further amendments, and disagreed with the remainder of the Council's amendments.

On motion of Mr. Hills the Report was adopted.

Mr. Hills moved, That the following Message be sent to the Legislative Council:—

MR. PRESIDENT,—

The Legislative Assembly having had under consideration the Legislative Council's Message dated 27th March, 1963, requesting its concurrence in certain amendments made by the Council in the Local Government (Boundaries Commission) Amendment Bill, acquaints the Legislative Council as follows:—

Amendment No. 1: Disagrees to the amendment,—because it is consequential to Amendment No. 3 which is disagreed to hereafter.

Amendment No. 2: Disagrees to the amendment,—because as the Boundaries Commission is purely an administrative tribunal its proceedings do not in themselves involve any question of law, procedure or evidence and its findings are not final and binding on the rights of property or person, and accordingly there is no need for it to be presided over by a Judge.

Amendment No. 3: Disagrees to the amendment, but proposes to amend the words which this amendment seeks to omit by omitting the words "or (b)" and inserting in lieu thereof the words ", (b) or (e)", and by adding at the end thereof the words:—"Provided that the member of the Boundaries Commission appointed pursuant to this paragraph shall not vote on any recommendation or proposal by the Boundaries Commission for the inclusion in the City of Sydney of the whole or any part of any other area.",—because it is considered that the importance of the City of Sydney warrants the Council of the City of Sydney being represented on any Boundaries Commission dealing with a proposal to curtail the boundaries of the City.

Amendment No. 4: Disagrees to the amendment,—because it is consequential to Amendment No. 2 which is disagreed to.

Amendments Nos. 5, 6 and 7: Disagrees to these amendments,—because they are consequential to Amendment No. 3 which is disagreed to.

Amendment No. 8: Disagrees to the amendment,—because it is consequential to Amendment No. 2 which is disagreed to.

Amendments Nos. 9, 10 and 11: Disagrees to these amendments,—because they are consequential to Amendment No. 3 which is disagreed to.

Amendment No. 12: Agrees to the amendment, but proposes to amend it by omitting all the words after the word "Minister" and by inserting in lieu thereof the words "until a copy of the report of the Boundaries Commission containing that recommendation has been laid before both Houses of Parliament".

3 and 4 April, 1963

Amendment No. 13: Disagrees to the amendment,—because it is consequential to Amendment No. 3 which is disagreed to, but proposes to amend the words which the amendment seeks to omit by omitting the words “effect an alteration to the boundaries of the City of Sydney” and by inserting in lieu thereof the words “result in any part of the City of Sydney being included in any other area”.

And the Assembly requests the concurrence of the Legislative Council in its disagreements from, disagreements from and further amendments upon, and an amendment to the Council's amendments in the Bill.

*Legislative Assembly Chamber,
Sydney, 3rd April, 1963.*

Point of Order:—Mr. Willis submitted that the Minister had incorporated into the Message comments and reasons which were not part of the decisions of the Committee. The House was being asked to convey to the Legislative Council a Message which was not strictly in accord with the decisions of the Committee. Mr. Speaker referred to a Ruling by Mr. Speaker Meagher in 1916, that it was not competent to move an amendment to the Message to the Legislative Council conveying the determination of the Assembly in respect to the Council's amendments. He stated that Standing Order No. 291 provided that the reasons shall be drawn up by the Member in charge of the Bill, and that the Message was a formality conveying the decisions of the Committee adopted by the House and ruled that the Message was not subject to debate.

Question put.

2. PETITION—SHOP TRADING HOURS:—Mr. Walsh presented a Petition from 962 citizens of New South Wales representing that the existing legislation and regulations controlling shop trading are a burden to citizens who desire to make purchases or receive personal services at times not now legally permitted and that there is a willingness of small storekeepers to keep their premises open for such sales, and praying that legislation be introduced to provide that hours of trading in essential foods and household commodities and for certain personal services be reasonably extended for small shopkeepers.

Petition received.

3. NOTICES OF MOTIONS AND QUESTIONS:—Mr. Speaker called on Notices of Motions and Questions.

4. URGENCY—SHOPPING LAWS:—Mr. Askin moved, That it is a matter of urgent necessity that this House should forthwith consider Notice of Motion No. 1 of General Business on the Notice Paper for Today, viz.:—

That, in the opinion of this House,—

(1.) The decision of the Industrial Commission to relax trading hours for chemists in certain special areas highlights the pressing need for more flexibility in shopping laws generally, with particular regard to shops operating in beach and holiday districts and their right to sell a wider range of goods within the stipulated hours.

(2.) Because the Government—

- (a) shows no sign of relaxing the rigid and uncompromising way in which it is administering the unsuitable shopping laws;
- (b) has flatly rejected all moves to investigate ways and means of eliminating ridiculous anomalies and bringing about a more commonsense state of affairs; and
- (c) is apparently quite satisfied to allow unlimited numbers of small shopkeepers, including mothers of young children, to go to gaol, who are doing this as a last resort in their protests against being prevented from giving the public a better service, and making a reasonable living for themselves,—

the Government is deserving of censure.

  - (6.) Will he provide in the Estimates for 1964-65 for such subsidies to be granted?

(Notice given, 28 April, 1964.)

5. Filing of Bills after Committal:—Mr. Maddison to ask the Minister of Justice,—

- (1.) When an accused person is committed for trial what principles are thereafter applied in determining whether a bill will or will not be filed?
- (2.) Is one of the reasons for not filing a bill that it would be contrary to public policy? If so, what facets of public policy are relevant to such a determination?
- (3.) Are reasons formulated in writing in support of a decision not to file a bill and if so, to whom are such reasons made available and who are the officers who formulate such reasons and what are their qualifications?
- (4.) If the reason for not filing a bill is that the evidence in the committal proceedings is unlikely to support a conviction, what procedures are thereafter followed to inform the investigating police as to the evidentiary deficiencies so as to enable further action to be taken and to provide a guide for the conduct of future cases in similar circumstances?

(Notice given, 30 April, 1964.)

6. Defended Divorce Cases:—Mr. Jago to ask the Minister of Justice,—

- (1.) Has a system developed in the divorce jurisdiction of calling over defended cases to ascertain:
  - (a) Whether the case is, in fact, ready to proceed?
  - (b) The probable duration of the case?
- (2.) Have legal representatives of parties with cases in the active list to maintain a close watch to estimate actual date of hearing as a result of this practice?
- (3.) Have the following difficulties arisen as a result:
  - (a) Short notice being given to witnesses with serious inconvenience to their private and business activities?
  - (b) The parties being required to attend at short notice?
  - (c) Solicitors and counsel experiencing difficulty in discharging responsibility to clients and having to obtain new counsel at short notice other than the counsel of the parties' choice?
  - (d) Parties being forced to compromise differences on an unfavourable basis to prevent disruption of their personal and business activities?
- (4.) Will he consider the adoption of the system followed in common law actions for listing of cases so that a definite date is set down for the hearing?

(Notice given, 30 April, 1964.)

7. Undefended Divorce Cases:—Mr. Jago to ask the Minister of Justice,—

- (1.) (a) Did Mr. Justice Chambers, when sitting in the divorce jurisdiction, concentrate on undefended actions with the result that the undefended list moved steadily and progressively?
  - (b) Was it possible to estimate with reasonable accuracy when a case would be listed for hearing?
- (2.) Do the following difficulties arise under the system now being followed:
  - (a) For lengthy periods no undefended cases, at all, are dealt with?
  - (b) On any particular day a large number of common law judges may become available to sit in undefended actions the following day and then up to one hundred cases may be listed for hearing on that following day?
  - (c) Common law judges sitting on Friday, at times, to hear undefended actions?
  - (d) Are common law judges also sitting each morning to hear a small number of undefended actions?
  - (e) Are parties unable to estimate when they will be required to attend court?
  - (f) Is a heavy load placed on the divorce office itself by the late availability of common law judges?
- (3.) Has the position developed where people, because they have become involved in litigation, suffer great inconvenience and hardship which is not necessary to the function of justice?
- (4.) Would most of these difficulties be removed by the appointment of another judge to sit in the divorce jurisdiction?

GOVERNMENT BUSINESS—ORDERS OF THE DAY:—

1. Pharmacy Bill; consideration in Committee of the Whole of the Legislative Council's amendments. [Mr. Sheahan.]
2. Landlord and Tenant (Amendment) Bill; consideration in Committee of the Whole of the Legislative Council's amendments. [Mr. Mannix.]
3. Auctioneers and Agents (Amendment) Bill; resumption of the adjourned debate on the motion of Mr. Mannix, "That this Bill be now read a second time."
4. Supply; resumption of the Committee.
5. Ways and Means; resumption of the Committee.

GENERAL BUSINESS—ORDERS OF THE DAY:—

1. Recommendations of the Youth Policy Advisory Committee; resumption of the adjourned debate on the motion of Mr. Punch.—That, in the opinion of this House, the recommendations of the New South Wales Youth Policy Advisory Committee, contained in the Report tabled in this House on 30th October, 1962, should be implemented.
2. Week-end Sentences for Certain Offences; resumption of the adjourned debate on the motion of Mr. Darby,—
That, in the opinion of this House, legislation should be introduced to provide "that", for certain offences, magistrates shall have power to direct a person found guilty to report every week-end, for a stated period of time, to a gaol, a work centre, or a training centre.
Upon which Mr. Griffith moved, That the Question be amended by leaving out all the words after the word "that" (secondly occurring) with a view of inserting the words "Judges and Magistrates shall have the power, in addition to, or in lieu of, imposing a gaol sentence, to commit a convicted offender to a work centre or a training centre and that such suitable centres be established" —instead thereof.
3. Property Valuations; resumption of the adjourned debate on the motion of Mr. Cox,—
That, in the opinion of this House,—
  - (a) The Government has failed to take action necessary to counter the effect of ever increasing property valuations and the hardship imposed on home owners and others by resulting increases in rates and taxes.
  - (b) The Valuer General should not be represented on boards of appeal when the subject of the appeal is a valuation or valuations made by the Valuer General.
  - (c) Local government should not be burdened with the financial responsibility of providing services which are basically State Government responsibilities.
  - (d) The Land Tax Act should be amended to provide that all private homes be exempt from land tax.
  - (e) The State Government should pay rates to local governing authorities in respect of State Government properties excluding those such as schools and hospitals.
4. Notifiable Disabilities Bill; resumption of the adjourned debate on the motion of Mr. Darby. "That this Bill be now read a second time."
5. Bread Industry; resumption of the adjourned debate on the motion of Mr. Willis,—
That this House, believing existing legislation prevents the public from getting best quality bread, calls on the Government to introduce legislation to provide for,—
  - (a) somewhat earlier starting times than are permitted at present for the baking of bread;
  - (b) the transfer from the Minister for Labour and Industry to the Industrial Commission of his discretionary powers to permit earlier commencing times in the case of these master bakers applying for them;
  - (c) the rationalisation of bread baking and delivery laws as they apply during Christmas and Easter holiday periods;
  - (d) the addition to the Bread Industry Advisory Committee of a consumers' representative; and
  - (e) the consolidation and modernisation of the several laws relating to the manufacture, supply and delivery of bread.

6. Pharmaceutical Drugs ; resumption of the adjourned debate on the motion of Mr. Crabtree,—

(1.) That this House is most concerned with,—

(a) The method of introducing new drugs on to the market and feels that immediate steps should be taken to safeguard the community against the dangers of untried drugs.

(b) The high cost of drugs, which causes grave hardship to the sick and ailing people of Australia.

(2.) This Parliament calls for an immediate national inquiry into these matters to determine,—

(a) The need for the establishment of a special testing authority to report on all drugs with attention being given to the cumulative and side effects of drugs.

(b) The economics of the drug industry.

7. Aborigines Welfare ; resumption of the adjourned debate on the motion of Mr. Doig,—

(1.) That a Select Committee be appointed to enquire into and report upon the housing, health, education, trade-training, employment and assimilation of Aborigines.

(2.) That such Committee consist of Mr. Kelly, Mr. Nott, Mr. Wattison, Mr. Weiley, Mr. Wyatt, and the Mover.

(3.) That the Committee have leave to sit during the sittings or any adjournment of the House and to make visits of inspection within the State of New South Wales and to other States and Territories of the Commonwealth.

8. Harbours, Rivers and Foreshores Commission ; resumption of the adjourned debate on the motion of Mr. Crabtree,—

That, in the opinion of this House, the Government should "give consideration to setting up" a Harbours, Rivers and Foreshores Commission for the purpose of dealing with problems of siltation, erosion and pollution along the foreshores of, and in the harbours and rivers of the State.

Upon which Mr. Griffith moved, That the Question be amended by leaving out the words "give consideration to setting up" with a view of inserting the words "set up" instead thereof.

9. Suspension of Drivers' Licences by Commissioner for Motor Transport ; resumption of the adjourned debate on the motion of Mr. Askin,—

(i) That the House deplores the Government's continuance of the system under which the Commissioner for Motor Transport exercises the right to suspend or cancel drivers' licences for breaches which have already been dealt with by the Courts.

(ii) That notwithstanding the integrity of the Commissioner, and his commendable zeal in seeking to make our roads safer for travel, this should not be attempted by methods which are an affront to democratic principles and tend to whittle away the authority of the Courts.

(iii) That the House calls on the Government to abandon the system complained of, and in its stead to set up a new system under which the Commissioner for Motor Transport may, where he deems warranted, take cases of offenders before a proper legal tribunal and give evidence in support of suspension or cancellation.

NOTICES OF MOTIONS:—

1. Mr. DARBY to move,—

That this House deplores the statement by the Premier that the only opposition to shop trading hours has come from the Dee Why district when substantial petitions have been presented from Paddington and Coogee.

2. Mr. ASKIN to move,—

That, in the opinion of this House,—

(1.) The decision of the Industrial Commission to relax trading hours for chemists in certain special areas highlights the pressing need for more flexibility in shopping laws generally, with particular regard to shops operating in beach and holiday districts and their right to sell a wider range of goods within the stipulated hours.

(2.) Because the Government—

(a) shows no sign of relaxing the rigid and uncompromising way in which it is administering the unsuitable shopping laws ;

- (b) has flatly rejected all moves to investigate ways and means of eliminating ridiculous anomalies and bringing about a more commonsense state of affairs; and
- (c) is apparently quite satisfied to allow unlimited numbers of small shopkeepers, including mothers of young children, to go to gaol, who are doing this as a last resort in their protests against being prevented from giving the public a better service, and making a reasonable living for themselves,—

the Government is deserving of censure.

3. Mr. DARBY to move,—

(1.) That, in the opinion of this House, a reappraisal of the problem of housing should take place in view of the following:—

- (a) The long established policy of assistance to those who have an established housing need offers no help to a young couple getting married and wanting to set up a home of their own.
- (b) The recently proclaimed policy by the Federal Government of assistance to young married couples.

(2.) That in such an appraisal a scheme of chartered flats for the accommodation of young married couples until they have built up sufficient equity to purchase their own homes should be carefully considered.

4. Mr. MADDISON to move,—

That, in the opinion of this House, legislation should be introduced to provide for the establishment of a Crimes Compensation Tribunal with power to award compensation for pecuniary loss suffered or expenses incurred by a victim of criminal injury and to make provision for payment of compensation to dependants of the victim who has died as a result of such injury.
